Dear Sir:

Ten leading Southern law schools, as listed on the left, have joined together to sponsor a recruiting conference. The conference will be held in Atlanta, Georgia, on Friday, March 12, 1983, at the Hyatt Regency Hotel. This Spring Conference can provide you with a convenient, economical, and time saving opportunity to interview talented law students, who are interested in a position with a government agency.

Years ago, the aforementioned law schools formed the Southeastern Law Placement Consortium. For seven years, the Consortium has sponsored a Fall Recruiting Conference, aimed primarily at large law firms and corporate legal departments from across the country. The years of organizing these annual recruiting conferences have provided us with the experience and expertise necessary to host a top-quality conference.

The mechanics of this Conference and the registration process are explained in the enclosed brochure. We urge you to examine this information carefully, and consider its potential Benefits for the recruiting of second- and third-year law students.

Feel free to direct your questions either to me or to any member listed on the Board. Please forward copies of this information to any other offices who may be hiring law clerks or attorneys at this time.

We look forward to working with you.

Sincerely,

Sylvia K. Hollowell

Sylvia K. Hollowell
